

Privacy Notice

Kieger UCITS Fund (the “Fund”)

The purpose of this notice is to provide you with information on our processing of personal data provided by you to the Fund or obtained by the Fund from you or through a third party in accordance with Regulation (EU) 2016/679 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 27 April 2016 on the protection of natural persons with regard to the processing of personal data and on the free movement of such data, and repealing Directive 95/46/EC (the General Data Protection Regulation) (the “GDPR”) together with the Luxembourg data protection law of 1 August 2018 and any other applicable national law and regulation.

This notice explains how the Fund processes personal data about you, whether as an investor in, a shareholder in, or a director of, the Fund, or otherwise as a person whose personal data is processed by or on behalf of the Fund. Where you are a non-individual investor, such as an institutional investor, we will process personal data about your directors, officers, trustees, employees, representatives, shareholders, investors, clients and ultimate beneficial owners or agents. You should transmit this notice to such individuals or otherwise advise them of its content and, where necessary, obtain their consent to the data processing.

We first invite you to familiarise yourselves with the following key terms as we will extensively refer to them throughout this Privacy Notice:

1. Personal data is any information relating to a data subject.
2. A data subject is a living natural person identified or identifiable in relation to her/his personal data.
3. An investor is any person (natural or not) investing, soliciting or solicited to invest, in the Fund.
4. A controller determines the purposes and means of processing personal data.
5. A processor processes personal data on behalf of, and upon instruction from, the controller.

1 Categories of data subjects

Question: Who are the data subjects in relation to whom we process personal data?

Answer: The majority of data subjects in relation to whom we process personal data fall into one or more of the three main categories of data subjects described in the table below (“you”, “your” and more generally together the “data subjects”).

Categories of data subjects	Description
Investing Persons	The Investing Persons category includes: (i) investors who are natural persons; (ii) natural persons (such as beneficial owners or family members) who are associated with investors; as well as (iii) natural persons involved in entities (in particular legal representatives and authorised signatories of investors who are not natural persons, intermediary companies, trusts or other vehicles) associated with investors.
Fund Persons	The Fund Persons category groups natural persons who belong or may belong to the governing body, committees or similar body of the Fund, such as the directors of the Fund; and/or who are (or are entitled to be) remunerated by the Fund in relation to their activities for the Fund.

Other Persons	The Other Persons category groups natural persons (other than the Investing or Fund Persons) who, directly or within third-party entities, are involved in the Fund's activities. These third-party entities include among others the authorities (such as regulators, including the CSSF) or service providers (such as the Fund's depositary, administrative agent, auditor or professional advisers) supervising, assisting and/or contributing otherwise to the Fund's activities.

The above table uses terms such as “associated”, “involved”, “belong”, “supervising”, “assisting” and “contributing”. As a natural person, you may be so associated, involved, belonging to, assisting and/or contributing in an unlimited number of private, public and/or professional capacities, including — without limitation — as employee or self-employed, client, proxy-holder, authorised signatory, representative, nominee, intermediary, board or committee member, trustee, settlor, agent, officer, delegate, consultant and/or adviser.

2 Categories of personal data

Question: What are the categories of personal data that we process?

Answer: As a general rule we reserve the right to process any past, present or future personal data needed to attain the purposes described or referred to in this Privacy Notice. However, in the table below we have listed the main categories of personal data we process together with a few illustrations. Please note that these illustrations are not exhaustive and that certain illustrations may belong to one or more categories of personal data, whether or not we have a contractual relationship with any of them or the entity they represent or work for.

Categories	In brief	Illustrations
Identification data	This category groups the personal data used to identify you.	Names, gender, place/date of birth, identification documentation (passport, ID cards), nationality, civil status, photos, tax identification numbers, login information, physical and digital signature and identifiers, etc.
Private data	This category groups the personal data related to your private environment.	Private/residential physical and digital addresses (e.g. email, IP) and other contact data (e.g. telephone and fax numbers), websites, blogs and social networks, family-related information, centres of interest, contact history, etc.
Professional data	This category groups personal data related to your professional environment	Professional physical and digital addresses (e.g. email, IP) and other contact data (e.g. telephone and fax numbers), website, blogs and social networks, professional activities, occupation and organisation, status, position, grade and title, curriculum vitae, professional relationship (e.g. colleagues, assistants, staff, reporting lines), contact history. etc.

Economic data	This category groups your personal data of a financial and economic nature.	Amount, nature and source of salary, income and remuneration, properties, wealth and estate, current and historic placements and cash flows, transaction history, investment preferences and objectives, financial account details (including credit or debit cards), current and historic credit information, etc.

The personal data that we process may consist of or result from any use of or activity on computer systems, networks and websites, and may take any form possible. Personal data that we process may then include all types of electronic support, pictures, images, sounds and voice recordings (such as telephone or online conversation recordings).

We process identification data for all categories of natural persons described in the answer to Question and Answer (“Q&A”) 1 above. In addition, we mainly process private, professional and economic data of Investing Persons; we process all categories of data of Fund Persons; and we mainly process professional data of Other Persons.

Please note that the above categories of personal data are without prejudice to all specific or general personal data you have provided or will provide us with from time to time.

The so-called “sensitive” personal data referred to in Q&A 3 below may also come in addition to or be part of the above categories of personal data.

3 Sensitive personal data

Question: Do we process so-called “sensitive” personal data?

Answer: Preamble — “Sensitive” personal data refer to personal data revealing racial or ethnic origin, political opinions, religious or philosophical beliefs, trade union membership, genetic data, biometric data for the purpose of uniquely identifying a natural person, data concerning health or a natural person’s sex life or sexual orientation, as well as personal data relating to criminal convictions and offences or related security measures. Sensitive personal data are sometimes referred to as “special category data” and “criminal offence data” targeted by Articles 9 and 10 of the GDPR respectively.

We do process such sensitive personal data. However, we do so in only a limited number of instances. In particular, we may process sensitive personal data (a) necessary for the purposes of carrying out your/our obligations, or exercising your/our specific rights in the field of social security and social protection law; (b) which you have manifestly made public; (c) necessary for reasons of substantial public interest; (d) under the control of an official authority; and/or (e) when authorised by applicable law providing appropriate safeguards for your rights and freedoms.

As a matter of illustration, we may process sensitive personal data revealing political opinions (which you have not necessarily manifestly made public) or relating to criminal convictions and offences when implementing our “know your customer” obligations, in particular whether you are a “politically exposed person” (PEP) in respect of whom the Fund must, under applicable AML/CTF laws, apply enhanced customer due diligence.

If you are a Fund Person, we may also process sensitive personal data concerning your health, or sensitive personal data relating to criminal convictions and offences.

We may also fortuitously process sensitive personal data when wilfully processing non-sensitive personal data. As a matter of illustration, although we neither require nor need personal data revealing racial or ethnic origin or religious beliefs, nor genetic or biometric data, this information is sometimes disclosed in the official identification documents (such as passport photo pages) we receive for the purpose of implementing our “know your customer” obligations. If you do not want us to process this information and also for the reasons described in the answer to Question 4 below, we therefore strongly suggest that you carefully black this type of data out in any document sent or drawn to our attention.

4 Unsolicited personal data

Question: What is our responsibility in relation to the processing of “unsolicited” personal data?

Answer: Preamble — “Unsolicited” personal data basically refer to personal data which we have no intention, nor interest in processing, mainly because these data are not needed to attain any of the purposes described or referred to in this Privacy Notice. These are personal data which we did not solicit, and which we technically process (e.g. store and/or transfer), sometimes quite fortuitously (as illustrated in Question 3 above), but for no specific purpose.

What is important for you to be aware of is that, in the absence of proved negligence on our part or unless otherwise so compelled by mandatory rules of law, we assume no obligation nor any liability for any damage suffered directly or indirectly by you or any third party as a result of such a technical processing, including in case of a personal data breach.

In view of the foregoing, we strongly recommend that you exclusively provide personal data that are expressly required from you, and that you refrain from providing any unsolicited personal data or making it available.

5 Source of personal data

Question: From whom or where do we collect or obtain your personal data?

Answer: We collect or obtain your personal data from various sources (and a combination thereof), and we reserve the right to opt at any time for any legally acceptable source. In practice, these sources may vary depending on the categories of natural persons described in Q&A 1 above.

Our first source of information is you. We collect your personal data each time we communicate with you. We collect your personal data either directly from you or via third parties representing us or you. In relation to Investing Persons in particular, third parties representing us may typically be our registrar and transfer agent, certain of our distributors, and other appointed intermediaries. Third parties representing you may include discretionary managers, lawyers and specific proxyholders.

We may also obtain your personal data from a variety of third parties who represent neither us nor you. In relation to Investing Persons in particular, these third parties may include certain of our service providers (such as the depository, the management company or the central administrative agent, Northern Trust Global Services SE (the “Administrative Agent”)), certain distributors, your banker, social medias, subscription services and centralised investor database (whether or not they belong to the Fund), as well as your or our advisers. If you are a Fund Person and/or an Other Person in particular, these third parties will typically be the organisation you work for, which may well belong to the group affiliated with the Investment Manager.

Third parties from whom we may obtain your personal data may also be public authorities, bodies or services, including Luxembourg and foreign supervisory and tax authorities.

We collect or obtain your personal data from various means (and combinations thereof), and we reserve the right to opt at any time for any legally acceptable means. In the following paragraphs, we would like to draw your attention to a few of them.

In relation to Investing Persons in particular, the most obvious means of collection of your personal data is the subscription documentation, including personal data required to fulfil our “know your customer” or tax transparency obligations (e.g. via self-certification forms). But we also collect information via your transactional activity.

For all categories of natural persons, we may also obtain personal information via exchanges of correspondence (whether or not in digital form), via telephone conversations (whether or not they are recorded), via contractual or operational documentation, via participation at board or shareholding meetings, and/or in the course of a complaint or litigious procedure.

6 Types of processing

Question: What types of processing do we perform on your personal data?

Answer: We perform and reserve the right to perform at any time any processing which the GDPR authorises us to perform on your personal data. The processing that we perform or may perform therefore includes any operations (or set of operations) on your personal data (or on sets of your personal data), whether by electronic or other means, such as collection, recording, organisation, structuring, storage, adaptation or alteration, retrieval, consultation, use, disclosure by transmission, transfer, dissemination or otherwise making available, alignment or combination, restriction, erasure or destruction.

In particular, we or our service providers acting as processors or controllers in their own right may be obliged or wish to record communications (including telephone or online conversations and e-mails).

Recordings may be produced in court or other legal proceedings and permitted as evidence with the same value as written documents. The absence of recordings may not in any way be used against us.

The purposes, lawful bases and retention periods in this respect are described in Appendix A and Appendix D respectively.

7 Purposes and lawful bases of processing

Question: For what purposes and on what lawful bases do we process your personal data?

Answer: We reserve the right to process your personal data for any specified, explicit and legitimate purposes we deem appropriate, provided such processing is based on one or more of the 6 possible lawful (or legal) bases authorised by the GDPR. These lawful bases are related to contract, compliance, vital interests, public interest, legitimate interests, and consent. These lawful bases are more fully described in Appendix A of this Privacy Notice.

We process your personal data for several purposes and on several lawful bases. These may vary depending on the category of data subjects (described in Q&A 1 above) to which you belong. In Appendix A, you will find tables listing the purposes of the processing (on the left-hand side column) and the corresponding lawful bases (on the right-hand side column). There is a table for all categories of data subjects, as well as a specific table for each category of data subjects.

You should be aware that any of the (initial) purposes listed in Appendix A or otherwise referred to in this Privacy Notice may change over time and lead to a new purpose. If the new purpose is compatible with the initial purpose, we may continue the processing under the original lawful basis (unless this original lawful basis is your consent).

Finally, you should also be aware of the following regarding the lawful bases of our processing. When we process sensitive personal data or transfer personal data to third countries, we may do so on specific lawful bases which are more fully described in Q&A 3 and Q&A 9, respectively, and which come in addition to those otherwise described in this Q&A 7 and in Appendix A. Also, when we exceptionally base the processing of your personal data on your consent, you are entitled to withdraw your consent as more fully described in Q&A 15 below.

8 Recipients of personal data

Question: Do we transmit your personal data to third-party recipients? If so, who are these recipients?

Answer: Preamble – In the context of this Privacy Notice we understand “transmission” (or derived terms thereof) of personal data to a party as including the disclosure, the accessibility or otherwise availability of these personal data to this party.

Yes, we also transmit your personal data to a series of recipients or categories of recipients, in particular, but not only, in relation to the processing of personal data belonging to Investing Persons.

These include:

- all our service providers, whether they act as processors and/or controllers in their own right which may be the Fund’s management company, FundRock Management Company S.A., investment manager Kieger AG, sub-investment manager(s), depositary, Administrative Agent, registrar and transfer agent, distributor and sub-distributors, paying agent(s), auditor, legal, financial and other professional advisers, consultants, as well as any existing or potential service provider of the Fund, such as information technology providers; the recipients may also be any of the foregoing respective representatives, agents, delegates, affiliates, subcontractors and/or their successors and assigns (including information technology providers, cloud service providers, or external processing centres);
- our various counterparties (such as prime brokers and credit institutions);
- any targeted markets (regulated or not), investment funds and/or related entities in or through which we intend to invest (including without limitation their governing entities, respective general partner, management companies, managers, central administration, investment manager, depositary and other service providers);
- any judicial, public, governmental, administrative, supervisory, regulatory or tax bodies or authorities; as well as
- the Fund Persons, and the Other Persons.

You should also be aware that:

- more information about the foregoing recipients (including our processors) may be found in Appendix E and in the Fund’s articles and prospectus;
- certain of the foregoing recipients (including our processors) may themselves transfer your personal data to other sub-recipients established or operating in and/or outside the European Economic Area (“EEA”). This may notably be the case in the context of exchange of information on an automatic basis with the competent authorities in the United States or other permitted jurisdictions pursuant to the US Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act (“FATCA”) and Directive 2014/107/EU on the automatic exchange of information in the field of taxation, based on the Common Reporting Standard (“CRS”), at OECD and European levels, or equivalent Luxembourg legislation, as more specifically detailed in Q&A 17;
- each of the foregoing recipients (including our processors) and sub-recipients may also process your personal data as controllers in their own right, in particular but not necessarily for compliance with laws and regulations applicable to them (such as those relating to “know your customer”) and/or order of any competent jurisdiction, court, governmental, supervisory or regulatory bodies, including tax authorities, and may be established or operating in and/or outside of the EEA; and
- in the absence of proved negligence on our part or unless otherwise so compelled by mandatory rules of law, we bear no liability for any transmission of your personal data to any third party not authorised by us and, more generally, for any such unauthorised third party receiving knowledge of your personal data.

9 Transfer to third countries

Question: Do you intend to transfer personal data to third countries or international organisations?

Answer: Preamble — In the context of this Privacy Notice we understand “transfer” (or derived terms thereof) of personal data to third countries or international organisations as including the disclosure, the accessibility or otherwise making available of personal data to or from third countries or international organisations.

Yes, the Fund and any service provider may and will transfer personal data to third countries, but only in accordance with the GDPR and applicable data protection laws. By third countries, we mean countries which do not belong to the EEA and which legislation does not necessarily ensure an adequate level of protection as regards the processing of personal data.

In Appendix B of this Privacy Notice, you will find a brief description of the available lawful bases for performing transfers of personal data to third countries, as well as a table listing the recipient countries or third-country recipients to which we transfer or may transfer personal data (left-hand side column) together with the corresponding specific lawful bases and, where applicable, additional information (right-hand side column). In this context, you should be aware that:

1. Your personal data may be transferred to recipients (including processors and other controllers) which are located in third countries subject to an adequacy decision of the European Commission and/or on the basis of any other EU agreed framework. In the table in Appendix B, each of these countries or recipients is referred to as an “adequate country” or an “adequate recipient”, respectively;
2. Your personal data may be transferred to recipients (including processors and other controllers) which may be located in third-countries which are not subject to an adequacy decision of the European Commission and whose legislation does not ensure an adequate level of protection as regards the processing of personal data. In this case, the transfer of your personal data may be based on one or more of the appropriate safeguards listed and briefly described in Appendix B. In the table in Appendix B, each of the relevant countries or recipient is referred to as a “safeguarded country” or a “safeguarded recipient”, respectively, and earmarked with the relevant appropriate safeguard;
3. In the absence of any adequacy decision or appropriate safeguard, your personal data may nevertheless be transferred to recipients (including processors and other controllers) located in third countries whose legislation does not ensure an adequate level of protection as regards the processing of personal data. In this case, a transfer or set of transfers of your personal data may be based on one or more of the derogations listed and briefly described in Appendix B. In the table in Appendix B, each of the relevant countries or recipient is referred to as a “derogatory country” or a “derogatory recipient”, respectively, and earmarked with the relevant derogation; and
4. We may transfer your personal data to a third country in the event this is required by any judgment of a court or tribunal or any decision of an administrative authority, provided this takes place on the basis of an international agreement entered into between the European Union or another Member State and other jurisdictions worldwide.

In addition to the information provided in Appendix B, you should be aware that:

- you have the right to obtain a copy of, or access to, the appropriate safeguards which have been implemented for transferring your personal data to a safeguarded country or a safeguarded recipient by a request addressed to any contact point and by any means mentioned in Q&A 19 below;

- when the transfer of your personal data to third countries is based on your explicit consent, you are entitled to withdraw your consent as more fully described in Q&A 15 below;
- in the absence of proved negligence on our part or unless otherwise so compelled by mandatory rules of law, we bear no liability for any transfer of your personal data to any third country or third country recipient not authorised by us and, more generally, for any such unauthorised third country or third-country recipient receiving knowledge of your personal data.

10 Retention period

Question: For how long will we store your personal data?

Answer: Without prejudice to what follows, as a matter of general principle, we take care that your personal data is not held for longer than necessary with regard to the purposes for which they are or have been processed.

We hold personal data of Investing Persons at least until the concerned investor ceases to be an investor. We then hold these personal data for a subsequent period of 10 years where necessary to comply with applicable laws and regulations, and/or to establish, exercise or defend actual or potential legal claims.

Longer or shorter retention periods may apply where required by applicable laws and regulations, or as a result of applicable statutes of limitation. Some of these law and regulations are listed in the table of Appendix D to this Privacy Notice.

11 Data subjects Rights

Question: What are your rights in relation to our processing of your personal data?

Answer: In addition to your right of information as well as to rights otherwise described in this Privacy Notice or provided for in the GDPR, the available rights in relation to our processing of your personal data are as listed and briefly described below.

The relevant legal provisions of the GDPR describing these rights may in our opinion be read and understood by persons who are not personal data protection professionals. For each of the rights listed below, we have therefore mentioned the applicable key provisions which we invite you to consult for further information.

Under the limits set out by the GDPR:

- Right of access (Art. 15 of the GDPR) — You have the right to receive confirmation that your data is being processed by us (or not), to access your personal data, and to receive supplementary information (however, largely corresponding to that provided in this Privacy Notice).
- Right to rectification (Art. 16 and 19 of the GDPR) — If your personal data is inaccurate or incomplete, you have the right to obtain assurance from us that they will be rectified without undue delay.
- Right to erasure (Art. 17 and 19 of the GDPR) — the right of erasure is also known as the “right to be forgotten”. The broad principle underpinning this right is to enable you to request us to delete or remove your personal data where there is no compelling reason for our continued processing thereof.
- Right to restriction (Art. 18 and 19 of the GDPR) — this right allows you to ‘block’ or suppress processing of your personal data. We may still store your data, but may not process them. We can retain just enough information about you to ensure that the restriction is respected in future.
- Right to data portability (Art. 20 of the GDPR) — this right allows you to obtain and reuse the personal data you have provided us with for your own purposes across different services. It allows you to move, copy or transfer your personal data easily from one IT environment to another.

- Right to complain to a supervisory authority (Art. 77 of the GDPR) — if you consider that our processing of personal data relating to you infringes the GDPR, you have the right to lodge a complaint with a supervisory authority, in particular in your EU Member State of habitual residence, place of work or place of the alleged infringement. In Luxembourg, you may lodge a complaint with the National Commission for Data Protection at the following address: 1, Avenue du Rock'n'Roll, L-4361 Esch sur Alzette, Grand Duchy of Luxembourg.

You may exercise any of the above rights (other than the right to complain to a supervisory authority) via any contact point and by any means mentioned in Q&A 19 below.

There is a last general and important point we wish to draw your attention to. Your rights under the GDPR (including those listed above) are not “absolute” or unconditional. Your rights may then be limited to certain cases or circumstances, conditioned and/or affected by various elements such as the lawful basis of our processing.

12 Rights to object

Question: Do you have the right to object to our processing of your personal data?

Answer: Yes, Article 21 of the GDPR gives you a right to object, but this right is limited and depends on the purpose or lawful basis of our processing.

- Firstly, you have the right to object at any time, on grounds relating to your particular situation, to processing of personal data, including profiling, concerning you which is based on our legitimate interests or on the performance of a task carried out in the public interest or in the exercise of any official capacity with which we are vested. In this case, we shall no longer process your personal data unless we demonstrate compelling legitimate grounds for the processing which override your interests, rights and freedoms or for the establishment, exercise or defence of legal claims.
- Secondly, where your personal data are processed for direct marketing purposes, you have the unconditional right to object at any time to the processing of personal data concerning you for such marketing, which includes profiling to the extent that it is related to such direct marketing.
- Finally, you have the right to object, on grounds relating to your particular situation, to the processing of your personal data for statistical purposes, unless the processing is necessary for the performance of a task carried out for reasons of public interest.

You may exercise your right to object via any contact point and by any means mentioned in Q&A 19 below.

13 Refusal to provide personal data

Question: Can you refuse to provide your personal data? If so, what are the consequences?

Answer: There are certain cases where the provision of your personal data results from a legal or contractual obligation applicable to you and/or to us, or where the provision of your personal data is necessary for us to enter into, continue and/or implement a professional relationship and/or contract, and/or otherwise deal with you.

As a general rule, failure to provide certain requested personal data, such as data required pursuant to AML/CTF laws or FATCA or information on the shares you hold in the Fund, may result in the impossibility to communicate (or to communicate safely) with you and/or to fulfil certain of our duties, obligations and services.

As an Investing Person in particular, failure to provide certain requested personal data may result in the impossibility for you or the investor to invest or maintain an investment in the Fund.

It may also result in incorrect or double reporting. The Fund, the Administrative Agent and/or the Depository shall be held harmless and indemnified against any loss arising as a result of an Investing Person being restricted or prevented from holding shares in the Fund.

As a Fund Person, failure to provide certain requested personal data may result in the impossibility for us to give you or maintain a position as a director or other officer of the Fund.

Please note that we may from time to time and as the case may be on a case-by-case basis indicate whether or not requesting and/or providing this information is mandatory for us and/or for you, respectively, and/or the reasons for which this is mandatory. Where necessary, we may also indicate on such occasions the consequences for your refusal to provide the requested information.

14 Withdrawal of consent

Question: Can you withdraw the consent given for processing your personal data, and if so, how?

Answer: Yes, when we base the processing of your personal data on your consent, you have the right to withdraw your consent at any time, yet without affecting the lawfulness of all processing based on your consent before its withdrawal.

You must be aware, however, that we reserve the right to continue the processing for which you have withdrawn your consent if there is another lawful basis to this processing.

Your decision to withdraw your consent may be notified to any contact point and by any means mentioned in Q&A 19 below.

15 Further processing

Question: Do we intend to process your personal data for a purpose other than that for which they were collected or obtained?

Answer: Although we have no intention to do that at the date of issuance of this Privacy Notice, we reserve the right to further process your personal data for a purpose other than that for which they were collected or obtained. If such were the case and prior to that further processing, we would provide you with information on that other purpose and with any relevant further information required by law which is not already contained in this Privacy Notice.

16 Other information

Question: Is there other information we deem appropriate to provide you with in the context of this Privacy Notice?

Answer: Yes, we believe that the following additional information might be of interest to you.

- Professional secrecy and confidentiality waiver

Any consent that you may give or may from time to time be requested to give in order to waive the professional secrecy or confidentiality duty to which we are subject pursuant to laws and regulations applicable to us is distinct from, and may not be construed as, any consent that you might give in the context of the GDPR.

- FATCA, CRS and other tax identification legislation to prevent tax evasion and fraud

To comply with “know your customer” and tax related laws and regulations such as FATCA and CRS at Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development (the “OECD”) and European levels or equivalent Luxembourg legislation, we are and our service providers may be obliged to collect and, where appropriate, report certain information in relation to you and your investments in the Fund (including but not limited to name and address, date of birth, U.S. tax identification number (TIN), account number, balance on account, the “Tax Data”) to the Luxembourg tax authorities (Administration des contributions directes) which will exchange this information (including personal data, financial data and Tax Data) on an automatic basis with the competent authorities in the United States or other permitted jurisdictions (including the U.S. Internal Revenue Service (IRS) or other US competent authority and foreign tax authorities located outside the European Economic Area) for the purposes provided for in FATCA and CRS at OECD and European levels or equivalent Luxembourg legislation.

In this context, it is mandatory to answer questions and requests with respect to the data subjects' identification and investment held in the Fund. We reserve the right to reject any application for investment if the required information and/or documentation are not provided or the applicable requirements not complied with. Investors acknowledge that failure to provide the relevant information in the course of their relationship with the Fund may result in incorrect or double reporting, prevent them from acquiring or maintaining their investment in the Fund and may be reported to the relevant Luxembourg authorities.

- Update of this Privacy Notice and additional information

You should first be aware that we reserve the right to amend or modify this Privacy Policy at any time and for any reason, without having to obtain your prior consent to such changes, notably in response to changes in applicable data protection and privacy legislation.

Any further update of this Privacy Notice as well as any additional information relating to our processing of personal data are accessible via the internet on www.kieger.com/UCITS/PrivacyNotice or upon request to the contact point mentioned in Q&A 19, below. If there are any significant changes, we make these clear either through the website or through another means of contact such as email.

Additional information relating to our processing of your personal data and further update of this Privacy Notice may also be found in the prospectus of the Fund, our contractual arrangements, or provided or made available, on an ongoing basis, through additional documentation (such as contract notes or specific notice and reports, whether periodic or not) and/or through any other communications channels, including electronic communication means, such as electronic mail, internet/intranet websites, portals or platform, as deemed appropriate to allow us to comply with our obligations of information according to the GDPR.

All the foregoing additional information and updates are deemed to be inserted by reference in and, where applicable, amend or replace, this Privacy Notice.

- Other privacy information

The service providers we are dealing with and who may process personal data on our behalf or process personal data as controllers in their own right generally have their own easily accessible privacy notices. The privacy notice of Northern Trust Global Services SE as Administrative Agent, registrar and transfer agent of the Fund, is available at <https://protect-eu.mimecast.com/s/Sngf4EySBvv0xtOdOEI?domain+northerntrust.com>. The privacy policy of FundRock Management Company S.A. as the manager of the Fund is available at <https://www.fundrock.com/privacy-policy/>. You are invited to consult and read the privacy notices of the service providers. In the absence of proved negligence on our part or unless otherwise so compelled by mandatory rules of law, we bear no responsibility for this privacy information nor for any processing performed by these other controllers in their own right.

17 Non-exhaustive information

Question: Is this Privacy Notice exhaustive of all information pertaining to the processing of your personal data?

Answer: No. Although this Privacy Notice claims to be exhaustive in relation to the information that we must convey to data subjects pursuant to the GDPR, it does not claim to be exhaustive of all information pertaining to the entire processing we perform as controller.

In relation to personal data that we did not obtain directly from you, our duty to inform you does not apply insofar as:

- you may already have the information;
- the provision of certain information may prove impossible or would involve a disproportionate effort, or is likely to render impossible or seriously impair the achievement of the objectives of certain processing;
- obtaining or disclosure is expressly laid down by EU or Member State law to which we are subject; and
- where the personal data must remain confidential subject to an obligation of professional secrecy regulated by EU or Member State law, including a statutory obligation of secrecy.

Investing Persons should also carefully read the privacy disclosures in the Prospectus and the Subscription Form.

18 Contact point

Question: What are our contact details and how can you contact us?

Answer: You may contact us for any request, notice or other reasons via:

- Telephone by dialling number +352 27123206;
- Email sent to Christopher.Lavall@kieger.com;
- Letter sent to the Fund's registered address (as mentioned in the main part of the Prospectus) and for the attention of the Board of Directors.

When you contact us, please, kindly provide your complete identification information, and state as clearly and completely as possible why you are contacting us and what you expect from us.
